

Contribute to the future of water management in your area

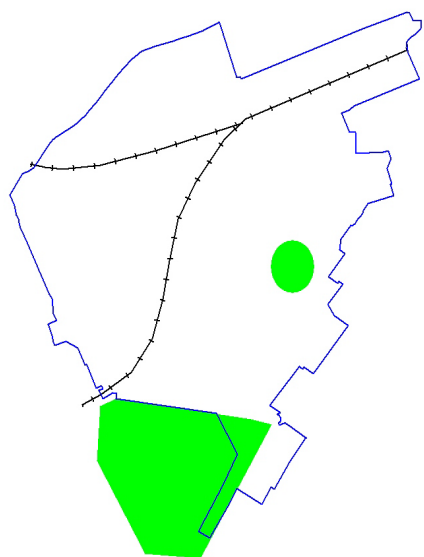

The Cooks River Sustainability Initiative is part of the City of Sydney's commitment to sustainable water management. The City recently conducted a community water survey in the Munni Street project area (known as Munni St Subcatchment). We received a great response to the survey and are now looking for further community involvement in future water planning for the area.

You are invited to attend a Munni Street Subcatchment vision session

Choose from Wednesday 22 April 6-9pm, Thursday 23 April 6-9pm
OR Saturday 25 April 10am-1pm

Cliff Noble Activity Centre
24 Suttor Street
Cnr Renwick Street
Alexandria

Catering will be provided

Munni Street Subcatchment

Come along if you are interested in:

- Protecting Alexandra Canal and the Cooks River
- Planning for a sustainable water future
- Thinking about how water might be managed in your area in 2030
- Building a long term local community water plan

RSVP:

Please contact the CRSI team on 9748 9646 or email susan.pritchard@strathfield.nsw.gov.au to book a place

For more information visit www.ourriver.com.au

Public transport: walking distance from Redfern station. Bus routes 308, 309 and 310 service the area. Transport can be provided on request.